BEARS RULED COTTON.

Market Closed Nine to Twelve Points Lower on Near Months.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. New York, March 21.—Bear speculation governed the cotton market almost from the start today, and prices eased off to about the low point reached on Monday.

The opening was steady, with prices unchanged to 5 points lower—considered as a satisfactory start in view of unfavorable crop and shipping season abroad. Europe. The market was soon declining rapidly, however, late cables telling of steady losses in the Liverpool market under heavy Southern crop accounts coming up bearing.

The opening figures proved to be the top of the day, as while there were several more gains, the market closed lower, and prices the following day were even timelier favorable weather in the western districts. Crop dispatches from Texas stated that the new crop was being harvested rapidly, while reports from the northern portions of the State were nearing completion. Rumors that a squeeze was in progress in Asia were also mentioned, as well as the fact that cotton was being imported by leading traders served to obscure shorts and the market in general.

All-round fluctuations were of seesaw nature throughout the rest of the market. Trading was not active, and consisted principally of professional interchanges. The close was off, with near months 10 to 12 points lower, short cotton closed quiet and steady, with quotations unchanged on the basis of $40 for middling round sales with 168 Quotations follow:
